RUN-OFF ELECTION

FOR CITY COUNCIL

TUESDAY, SEPT. 28

SMITH, WHITE, CHAMPION, HOFF ELECTED

REZONING WITHIN GREENBELT DENIED BY COMMISSIONERS

Greenbelt battled 1000 last Friday, Sept. 17, at a hearing of the County Commissioners to consider five petitions for rezoning. The County Commissioners were in complete agreement with Greenbelt's recommendations, voiced by City Manager James Giese and Joseph DePaul, Greenbelt's city solicitor. Their testimony was supported by representatives from Greenbelt Homes, Inc., including Manager Roy Breashears and a GHI attorney.

The commissioners voted to deny two petitions to rezone land on Crescent Rd. behind the Parkway apartments from RPC to R-18, which would have permitted construction of additional apartment houses. The owners of the land are Greenbelt Parkway Apartments, Inc., and Jane Apartments, Inc.

Originally Government Owned
When the federal government sold its interest in Greenbelt during the 1950s, the apartment house block between Parkway and Crescent was subdivided for sale into 3 parcels, each parcel containing one apartment building and its adjoining open-space area. The open-space portions of two of these parcels were the subject of the two rezoning petition.

These apartment buildings, like all the other original construction in the city, do not comply with the provisions of any existing zoning category. Giese argued that the two apartment buildings would most closely conform to the county's R-18 zoning category as to density of land use and type of construction. Furthermore, he contended that an R-18 zoning for this block is a logical step-down classification, inasmuch as the block adjoins an area of higher density apartments on one side, and an area of lower density townhouses on the other.

The attorney for the county agreed, adding that all such construction built by governmental bodies and later sold should be assigned to the county zoning category it resembled most closely, and subsequently be governed by the regulations established for that zoning category.

The owners of the two apartment buildings had requested rezoning for the open-space portion of their property only. The city contended that the open-space portion could not be detached from the portion of the parcel on which the apartment houses are located, and that to zone this area separately and build on it would conflict with zoning regulations.

The city argued that the open-space area is needed to provide recreation, safeguard the appearance of the area, and possibly provide off-street parking in the future. The County Commissioners concurred.

Also denied was a petition to rezone a ¼-acre lot on Lakecrest Drive and Greenbelt Rd. from R-55 to C-O (commercial office). If the petition were granted, it was argued, the parcel would become an example of undesirable spot-zoning.

Approval was given to petitions to rezone two parcels of land in Springhill Lake from R-18 to C-O and C-1 respectively (commercial zoning). Both changes are in conformity with the Greenbelt Master Plan.

Commissioners Deny Move To Withdraw from Agencies

In a rare display of unanimity, Prince Georges County's Board of Commissioners denied any plans to withdraw from either the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC) or from the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission (MNCPPC).

The possibility of changing some of the relationships between the county government and these agencies was informally discussed in a meeting last month, according to Commissioner Gladys Spellman, but nothing formal has been done; no study has even been initiated. There has been no serious proposal to withdraw from either WSSC or MNCPPC; as commissioner Jesse Baggett noted: "In these agencies right now we have the best arrangement in the county."

Commissioner Bayne Brook had some afterthought about the publicity which apparently emanated from the informal discussion. "I did not know there was going to be a press release on our meeting," he declared "I considered it was just a thought tossed out for discussion."

Community Debate On Policies In Viet-Nam

The Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet-Nam will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at the Greenbelt Community Church at 8 p.m.

The committee, which is less than two months old and consists, at present, of 25 members, is planning to sponsor a Community Debate at the Community Church on Friday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. The debate will feature several speakers, both defending and criticizing the Administration's policies. So far, the following have accepted invitations to speak: Eric Mann, of the Committee on Foreign Policy Alternatives; Greenbelt Joe Furey, economics instructor; Professor Eugene Boardman, an expert on China from the University of Wisconsin; David Martin, legislative assistant to Senator Dodd; and Tom Spencer, a widely-travelled Greenbelt.

The purpose of the committee was explained by member Bruce Bowman, who stated: "We are concerned that the public is not getting a true picture of the conflict in Viet-Nam or of the true reasons for the United States' participation. We hope to provide more facts than are generally available to the public."

Another member, Wayne Horman, adds: "The primary purpose of the committee is to attempt to stimulate wide-spread public discussion of the issue in confidence that it is only in this manner that all the facts can become known."

The Prince Georges County Fair and Showcase opened yesterday at Upper Marlboro. Many special events are scheduled for the fair, which will continue through Sunday, Sept. 26. Winners in the agricultural section of the fair will share a record $22,000 in prize money.

The program includes a country music competition every evening; a fireworks display on Friday night; a meeting of the County Commissioners on Friday morning; and parades on Saturday and Sunday. For further information about these and other scheduled events, call the Prince Georges Chamber of Commerce in Hyattsville, at 927-9121.

Scouts to Enroll Sept. 30

All Greenbelt boys ages 8 to 16 are invited to join the scouting movement in a county-wide "School Night for Scouting" program that will take place Thursday, Sept. 30, 7-8:30 p.m. Greenbelt Junior High, Greenbelt Center Elementary and Greenbelt North End Elementary schools will all be open at that time to accept applications.

Greenbelt Scouts and Cub packs will be represented at each Greenbelt school to assist in accepting the applicants. Dues will be assessed. New Cubs and Scouts will be put in present units, but where there is no room for all boys, steps will be taken immediately to form new units.

Simonson and Pilski Will Compete In Run-off; Park Referendum Passes

Three of the four incumbent city councilmen running for reelection — Edgar L. Smith, David C. Champion, and William L. Hoff — won a clear-cut vote of affirmation from Greenbelters at last Tuesday's regular election. The fourth incumbent — Clifford Simonson — will face a run-off election against challenger Richard R. Pilski next Tuesday, September 28.

Group Jog Along Furthers Fitness

The Greenbelt Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage its first Jog Along Day on Saturday, Sept. 25, at 10:30 a.m. at Braden Field. Mayor Edgar Smith, JCC president Lou Chiccehitto, and former national champion runner Bob Scharf will be among the leaders of anyone who ventures out to Braden Field to join the 1½-mile jaunt in which everyone will run as a group in a circular route so that the less persevering individuals can drop out along the way.

The run, which is not a race, is the first of a monthly series of get-togethers to advertise the Run for Your Life program being conducted by the Jaycees, to encourage everyone, regardless of age or sex, to run for physical fitness and to combat physical fatness. Those who run 100 miles or more during the year (two miles a week) will receive trophies. The Greenbelt program is expected to serve as a model for the programs being run by 67 other Jaycees throughout the state. State chairman Hugh Jas-court, a Greenbelt resident, hopes will become nationwide.

Saturday's race will include physicians such as Dr. Gabriel Mirkin of Johns Hopkins, who guides the Road Runners Club program and heads the Baltimore competitive program which lists over 100 runners a week. According to Dr. Mirkin, 70% of all deaths between the ages of 45 and 60 in the United States are due to heart attacks, hardening of the arteries and strokes—"an avoidable tragedy if people would only run for their lives."

The next race in the Greenbelt area will be the Jaycees' Turkey Trot on November 28 in which 38 competed last year. This year, those registered in the Greenbelt program will be pitted against those from the JCC programs in the rest of the county. The winner will be Former mayor Francis W. White was the lone non-incumbent to win a clear majority. Making a strong comeback after his defeat in 1963, White obtained the second largest vote—683.

It was, however, far short of the huge total amassed by the present Mayor, Edgar L. Smith. Smith, showing popular support among all elements in the population, registered 961 votes or 77 percent of the 1,245 votes cast.

The other two winning candidates, Champion and Hoff, obtained 672 and 665 votes, respectively. For Champion, it was his fourth successive election to council, for Hoff, his second. Only 623 votes were necessary for a majority.

Unsuccessful candidates, in order of finish, were Lloyd L. Moore, Harvey Geller, and Robert E. Foley. (The votes are given in the accompanying box.)

Referendum

The electorate gave an overwhelming endorsement to the proposed $250,000 bond issue for the purchase of parkland around Greenbelt Lake. The vote was 806 to 153.

The 1,245 votes cast did not equal the 1,393 cast in the 1963 election, but were the second highest in the history of Greenbelt. Seventeen citizens cast absentee ballots in Tuesday's election.

There were also a considerable number of write-in votes — 27 spread among Dean, Goldfaden, Turner, Donkas, Morrison, McDonald, and Neumann.

Next week's run-off between Simonson and Pilski should be a spirited contest, since only 3 votes separated the two at last Tuesday's election. Simonson was 6 votes short and Pilski 9 votes short of an absolute majority.

The Jaycee group containing the largest number of individuals to reach the finish.

Local Chairman Larry Noel stressed that the program is open to everyone, and he will lead his six sons around the Braden Field route to prove it.

Referendum Landslide

The election of Greenbelt's new City Council will not be complete until after next Tuesday's run-off election, but the voters have already settled one issue. The parkland referendum passed by an overwhelming majority: 800 to 153.

Greenbelters are to be congratulated on having taken the first step toward incorporating into the city's park system the woodland bordering Greenbelt Lake. The next step is up to the new council, and we feel sure they will take it without delay.

Foreign Dignitaries Visit In Greenbelt

More than 60 housing and planning officials from 25 underdeveloped nations visited Greenbelt on Thursday, Sept. 16. The foreign experts, mostly from Latin America, Africa and Asia, are in the United States on a one month study tour to see what they can learn from American successes and failures.

The group met at the Youth Center to hear Norman Altman tell how the Foundation for Cooperative Housing helped Greenbelters organize the cooperative that bought most of the housing in Greenbelt. Roy Breashears reported on operations and problems within Greenbelt Homes today. Jim Cassels told them about the workings of Twin Pines Savings & Loan Assn., and John Brown described the co-op supermarket, pharmacy and service station.

The French-speaking officials were then invited to visit the home of Calvin and Frances Aulisio at 36-R Ridge Road, while the Spanish-speaking officials were invited to the home of Sidney and Bernice Lastner at 39-F Ridge Road. Later, Vaclav Majer showed the visitors through the Co-op Supermarket.

Above is a picture of the Boss . . . He turned white as this sheet when he checked my Box Office receipts. With the outstanding shows I have been playing, I'm at a loss to know. Won't you take a second or two to write a line to tell me what would make my Theater more inviting? To the first 20 that take time to drop me a line I will mail two courtesy passes. And I will strive to comply with your suggestions for improving the Greenbelt Theatre.

"I told you 12,000 times"
Last year more than 12,000 people called our Home Service Department to ask every kind of homemaking question. Our staff of graduate home economists were at their service! Every year they send out 100,000 recipes to people who cook with gas. And make about 5,000 home calls to help people get the most satisfaction from gas appliances of all kinds. And give cooking classes and school demonstrations. And help homemakers in scores of other ways. We're glad! It's nice to be needed.
